WILD PANIC IN BURNING HOTEL

Four Lives Lost and Over Score of Persons Injured in Salvation Army Hostelry, St. Louis.

TWO HUNDRED MEN WERE IN PERIL

St. Louis, Nov. 28.—Four men were burned to death and probably thirty-five were injured in a fire early today that practically destroyed the Light-house hotel, conducted by the Salvation Army at the northwest corner of Ninth and Market streets.

More than two hundred men were asleep in the building when the fire was discovered, the greater number being on the second and third floors. All became panic-stricken and before the firemen arrived and could stretch nets many had jumped from the upper windows and were picked up crushed and unconscious on the street below. The four dead have not been identified as their bodies were burned to a crisp.

The following is a partial list of the casualties:

Killed.

Four unidentified.

Injured.

John Brady, aged 26 years, serious internal injuries.

Charles J. Ross, 30, shoulder fractured and internally hurt.

John Shaw, 52, one-legged man, leg fractured.

Alfred Broad, 72, hands and face burned.

Thomas Callahan, fireman, face and hands burned.

James Clark, 30, burned all over body, serious.

William Hadt, 50, face and hands burned.

James Burkhardt, 59.

James Lynch, 46.

John Brady, 20.

Charles Ross, day clerk.

Thomas Mooney, 38.

J. F. Mueller, 38.

Oscar Anderson, 26.

George Miller, 40.

Frank Louise, 35.

William Gilliland, 55, Hagerstown, Ill.

John Moore, 30.

Charles Boland, 30, all more or less burned.

The building was a three-story structure and fully two hundred men were sleeping in it when the fire broke out.

Flames Belched Forth.

Watchman O'Connell, who was stationed on the third floor, discovered the fire. He said he had gone to the clothes closet to get some wearing apparel for several of the men who were practically without clothing and on opening the closet door a sheet of flame belched forth, burning off his hair and eyebrows. The watchman was unable to shut the door and the whole room was quickly filled with flame and smoke. O'Connell gave the alarm and hurried around waking up the sleeping inmates. The closet had

THANKSGIVING DAY AS FORT WAYNE WILL OBSERVE IT

Business Stops for Holiday and Feasting Will Follow Worship.

There will be the most general observance of the Thanksgiving holiday in Fort Wayne tomorrow, and advance preparations indicate that it will be thoroughly enjoyed by the city's busy population. There will be a pratical suspension of business, special religious services will be held in many of the churches and feasting will follow the religious observance with a lighter program of recreation to round out the day.

Weather indications presage increasing cloudiness for the holiday. All of the large manufacturing institutions, all the wholesale houses and practically all the retail establishments will remain closed for the day, as will also the public buildings, and this arrangement will give thousands an opportunity to participate in the observance of the day. The public schools close this evening and will not reopen until Monday, while the Catholic and Lutheran schools also adjourn for the holiday.

Some Union Services.

Due recognition of the religious character of the holiday is given in special services at many of the city churches, and a number of these are union meetings. The Ministerial association in arranging for these services divided the city into districts, and the schedule of morning services is as follows:

Christ's Lutheran and Trinity Lutheran churches will unite at Trinity church and Rev. W. H. Schrock will preach the sermon.

All the churches east of Calhoun street and north of the Pennsylvania railroad will unite at the First M. E. church and Rev. J. F. Vichert will preach the sermon.

All west of Calhoun street and north of the Pennsylvania railroad will unite at the Westminster Presbyterian church and Dr. M. E. Nethercut will preach the sermon.

All south of the Pennsylvania railroad will unite at the Third Presbyterian church and the Rev. D. E. Zechiel will preach the sermon.

In Other Churches.

In all the Catholic churches of the city a special mass of Thanksgiving will be celebrated tomorrow morning, and the German Lutheran churches will also hold special Thanksgiving services, all of them in the morning save Trinity church, where the service is held in the evening.

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, will hold its Thanksgiving service at 10 o'clock.

Trinity Episcopal church will hold special services, Rev. E. W. Averill delivering the sermon at the morning hour, 10 o'clock.

The Epworth League chapter of Simpson M. E. church will observe two special features of Thanksgiving day. At 7 o'clock a morning prayer service will be held in the church, and at 7:30 in the evening a missionary social will be held at the home of Miss Jessie Herman, 127 West Woodland avenue. The league supports a native missionary worker in India, and great interest is manifested in this work.

At the Public Institutions.

At the public institutions preparations are being made to give the inmates a special dinner in recognition of the day, and the menu at the state school, the St. Vincent, Reformed church and Allen county Orphan asylums will be a delight to the little ones, while Sheriff Grice will give the prisoners at the county jail a much more elaborate spread than is embraced in the daily bill of fare.

All the hotels have arranged elaborate menus, and following the feasting the public will give itself to the enjoyment of other pleasures of the day. There will be many social events, special performances at the theaters and other attractions for those who seek holiday diversions.

YOUNG WOMAN DIES IN RUNAWAY AT FARM HOME

Miss Carrie Kruse Has Her Skull Fractured by Being Thrown.

Miss Carrie Kruse, twenty-six years old and a daughter of Charles Kruse who lives in Washington township, a short distance south of Kramer's corner, was thrown from a farm wagon at her home about 10 o'clock this morning, sustaining injuries that resulted in her death.

There was a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain, the left ear was torn from her head and hung by a shred of skin and her lower jaw was fractured an inch to the right of the chin. There was a cut above her right eye and a number of small bruises and abrasions about the head and face.

Miss Kruse had gone to a field back of the house with her father for a load of fodder and was holding the team. Part of the load had been placed on the wagon when the horses became restless and one of them started, scaring the other, and they ran directly toward a rail fence. Within five feet of the fence the team swerved sharply to the right, upsetting the wagon and the fodder fell on top of the young woman, who was thrown violently against a stake that supported the rails.

Her father found her under part of the fodder unconscious from the injuries she had received, with the blood gushing from her mouth. She made no attempt to speak and with the assistance of August Dreier, a neighbor, who was called, she was carried into the house, but was dead before medical aid could be summoned. Dr. E. M. Van Buskirk, acting coroner, was called and made an examination and turned the body over to Undertaker Henry Wellman.

Miss Kruse was a robust young woman and frequently aided her father in the performance of his work on the farm. She made no attempt to get off the wagon and stuck to her team, using all her strength to check the horses. Miss Bertha Kruse, a younger daughter, saw the accident, but did not think her sister had been seriously injured and she finally caught the runaway horses.

The young lady recently returned from a trip with her father to Germany and was exceedingly popular in the neighborhood. Charles Kruse formerly lived in Fort Wayne, but has resided on his Washington township farm for the last thirty-five years.

The surviving family consists of the parents, William Kruse, a brother, who left a short time ago for California, and three sisters, Mrs. Fred Bohde, of St. Joe township; Mrs. William Linnemeier, of Lake township, and Miss Bertha Kruse, who lives at the family home.

REPUBLICANS QUIT THE JOB OF COUNTING JUDGE OUT

Election Contest Withdrawn and Costs Taxed Against Skelton—Courts.

Wilmer Leonard and Wood & Townsend appeared in the commissioners' court this morning and withdrew their contest in favor of John Morris against Judge Edward O'Rourke, of the Allen circuit court, and openly stated that they ont only conceded election of the latter, but stated that the canvassing board had done excellent work.

The proceedings were very informal and Mr. Wood made the motion to withdraw in a very short address and the attorneys who had looked after Judge O'Rourke's interests had nothing to say. Under this procedure the count of the election board stands and the records will show that Mr. Morris was beaten by 84 votes.

The work of opening the packages and examining the mutilated and rejected ballots was finished last night and at that time the republicans practically admitted they were beaten, although the attorneys asked until this morning at 9 o'clock to consider the matter fully. There is little doubt that if the contest had been carried to a finish Judge O'Rourke's majority would have run up over 100.

Court Notes.

Goldie Agnes Schall has filed suit in the election of the latter, but that John Schall, who is charged with having deserted her less than two months after their marriage in May, 1904. A. E. Thomas is her attorney.

Judge O. N. Heaton adjourned court today until Monday and will go with Mrs. Heaton to Ann Arbor to spend Thanksgiving with his sister.

The case of Hollis Gillett vs. Charles E. Grill, administrator, was heard by Judge O'Rourke, and the plaintiff was allowed a claim of $25.

TWENTY-THREE DROWN IN WRECK ON THE GEORGIAN BAY

Vessel Goes Down in Storm and Passengers and Crew are Lost.

Wiarton, Ont., Nov. 28.—The small passenger steamship J. H. Jones, which has not been heard from since the great storm of last week, is now known to have foundered off Cape Croker. The Jones was last sighted off that point Thursday afternoon, having left Owen Sound that morning. Yesterday part of the cabin, a lifeboat and several unidentified bodies were found on the north shore of Christian island by Indians, and it is thought the passengers, believed to have numbered sixteen, and entire crew of thirteen were lost when the ship was overwhelmed by the storm. The Jones carried no booking list, and the exact number of passengers cannot be ascertained.

Thirteen Known Dead.

The following thirteen are known to have been on board:

DONALDSON, J. T., manager Buckeye Fish company, Owen Sound.
LYONS, ALEX, Tobermoray.
LYONS, MRS., mother of the former, Tobermoray.
FOX, ———, Tobermoray.
FALON, FRANK, Tobermoray.
FALLON, GEORGE, Tobermoray.
VITESSON, H. W., Tobermoray.
ALLEN, LOUIS, Tobermoray.
WAGG, I. W., Tobermoray.
M'IVER, DAN, Providence Bay.
Three unknown men.

The Jones carried the following crew:

CRAWFORD, J. V., captain.
LENNOX, H., mate.
ROSS, W., wheelman.
M'EWAN, GEORGE, wheelman.
SHAW, CHARLES F., engineer.
SADDLER, W., engineer.
SIMOND, TOM, fireman.
SIMMONDS, L., fireman.
MAC VITTIE, L., fireman.
TILLEY, JAMES, deck hand.
SMITH, GEORGE, deck hand.
JACKSON, FRANK, cook.
CLARK, M., cook.

Skipper Old in Service.

The Jones, although a small boat, was one of the staunchest on Georgian Bay, and its commander was one of the most experienced on the lakes. It is believed the ship was disabled in some manner before it could seek shelter and was overwhelmed by the gale. It was well equipped with life saving devices, but they would prove of little use in the storm, which was the most severe of the present season.

The boat was owned by the Crawford Tug company, and plied between Owen Sound, Wiarton and Manitoulin Island ports. It was built in 1883 and registered 152 tons.

The loss of the Jones with its crew and passengers brings the total casualties of last week's storm up to thirty-eight lives.

Tugs and steamers were sent out last night from Wiarton, Owen Sound, Penetanguishene and Parry Sound to scour Georgian Bay in a quest for survivors of the last boat, but it is believed the search will be fruitless. All of the members of the crew of the Jones lived in Wiarton, and the town is plunged in gloom.

GARDINER AND SIELOFF WILL CONTEST WITH SHOTGUNS

Boxers to Shoot for a Prize at Corner Rod and Gun Club Shoot Tomorrow.

An added feature of the big Thanksgiving shoot by the Corner Rod and Gun club tomorrow afternoon at their park north of the city will be a match shoot between Jimmy Gardiner and Otto Sieloff, the pugilists who are to box at Princess rink tomorrow night.

Gardiner challenged Sieloff to a match with the guns and was promptly taken on by the burly German boxer. The match calls for twenty-five blue rock targets and the prize will be worth winning. Much interest has already been shown in this side match between the two boxers, both of whom are said to be good marksmen.

CUPID HAS BEEN BUSY.

Many Marriage Licenses Issued on Eve of Holiday.

The approach of Thanksgiving stimulated business at the desk of the marriage license clerk, and the following permits to wed had been issued by County Clerk Johnson up to 3 o'clock this afternoon:

Edwin P. Hoolshire, 21, machinist, and Amelia Rush, 21.
Lewis E. White, 20, farmer, and Claudia Pearl Abel, 24.
Gerald Traxler, 28, operator, and Emma W. Kayser, 23.
Jacob M. Rasmus, 46, merchant, and Jennie Gray, 42.

Miss Belle Mann has resigned her position with the S. F. Bowser company to accept the position with the D. N. Foster Furniture company, which was formerly held by Miss Inez Trary who was forced to leave because of ill health.

GILLETTE HEARD IN HIS OWN DEFENSE

Man Accused of Murder of Grace Brown On Witness Stand in Sensational Trial at Herkimer.

CASE OF PROSECUTION IS RESTED

Herkimer, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Chester E. Gillette, charged with murdering his supposed fiancee, Grace Brown, of South Otselic, today took the witness stand in his own behalf. With face somewhat drawn, but attitude as care free as the most unimportant witness in the entire case, Gillette crossed his legs, gazed at the jury and began to tell the story of the ill-fated trip that he and Grace Brown took on Big Moose lake. After going over his youthful career, which carried him through the west, Gillette said that he had been in the employ of his uncle, N. H. Gillette, of Cortland, since March, 1905. In response to the questions of his senior counsel, Gillette then began his rehearsal of the tragic story that other witnesses have endeavored to piece together.

Gillette Begins His Story.

"I left Cortland on Sunday, July 8," he began. "Yes, I had been acquainted with Grace Brown for some time. I went to Deruyter from Cortland and remained there one night. I met Grace Brown. The next day we went to Utica, staying at the hotel Martin that night."

"Did you have any talk with Grace Brown at the hotel?" asked Mr. Mills, of counsel for the defense.

Gillette made an affirmative reply, but on objection of the district attorney the conversation that was alleged to have passed between the Brown girl and Gillette was not allowed to enter on the minutes.

Then Gillette continued with the narrative of his trip into the Adirondacks. He testified that he went to a Utica laundry before starting northward.

Took Morning Train.

"We reached the upper lake at 5 o'clock Monday evening," Gillette said. "When we got to the hotel we started out for a walk. Returning we told the proprietor that we did not care much for the place and he told us of a morning train we could get out on. We took that train."

In his opening Mr. Thomas said he would show that Grace Brown was the one who suggested that they get off and spend the day at Big Moose, but when the witness reached that point in his story he made no allusion to what inspired them to get off at Big Moose, after the girl's trunk had been shipped through to Old Forge.

"We went to the Glenmore hotel in a 'bus," said Gillette. "Grace sat down on the veranda. I went in and talked with the younger Mr. Morrison. He told me there were some beautiful sights on the lake and when I inquired about a steamer ride he told me to go and tell the engineer that I wanted to go with him. This I did."

THINKS HE'S A SON OF TURKISH AB

Earl Hau, Alleged Perpetrator of Baden-Baden Crime Does Insane Stunt in London Court.

London, Nov. 28.—Karl Hau, alias Stau, professor of Roman law in George Washington university, Washington, D. C., who has been under arrest here since November 7 on the charge of murdering his mother-in-law at Baden Baden, was again brought up on remand at the Bow street police court today. When the presiding magistrate explained to the prisoner that papers containing a mass of evidence in his case had been received from Germany, but that there was still further technical evidence necessary (for which the German authorities had sent) before he could be formally extradited, and asked him whether he had anything to say, Hau with staring eyes, answered:

"I don't understand what this is all about."

Insane or Feigning?

The prisoner has apparently lost his reason or is feining insanity. For several days he has been confined in the prison infirmary and closely guarded, owing to fear that he may commit suicide. Until this morning Hau either did not or pretended he did not recognize anybody, even his lawyer, Mr. Wilson. When the former came into court today, however, he said:

"Oh, this is Mr. Wilson."

Hau was still dressed faultlessly, but his hair was dishevelled and his face unshaven, while his eyes wandered aimlessly around the court room. Occasionally he would ask Mr. Wilson or the detective who arrested him at the hotel Cecil what he was there for. They tried by every means to make him talk coherently, but if the prisoner was pretending to be insane he was on his guard, for when suddenly told that a letter had been received from his wife, his only answer was "that's absurd."

Says He is Royal Turk.

When Mr. Wilson addressed the prisoner as Hau, he angrily asked

"Why call me Hau? My name is Burhan Eddine Effendi." (The name of the favorite son of the sultan of Turkey.)

The magistrate could not get anything from the prisoner but the repeated statement:

"I don't know what this is all about."

Finally with the consent of Mr. Wilson, the case was again remanded for a week.

The prison doctor has certified that Hau has been acting in an insane manner, but the doctor believes this is assumed. A further medical examination of the prisoner will be held before the case is again called.

Mr. Wilson, in an interview, today said:

"Even if it is shown that the prisoner is insane it cannot prevent his extradition. All the British magistrate has to decide is whether there is sufficient evidence against him to send the case to a jury, and it is for the jury to decide whether the prisoner is insane.

Case Has Been Carefully Prepared.

The case against Hau has been carefully prepared by the German police. The evidence includes that of a man who swears he sold a wig and a false beard to the prisoner; that of another man who testified that he helped Hau to adjust the disguise, and that of still another man who says he helped the prisoner take off his beard and wig. In fact Hau's every step has been followed from the time he left Frankfort for Baden Baden, and the police have traced his movements from Baden Baden up to the time of his arrival in London. There is no chance of preventing his extradition."

After the adjournment of Hau's case today the papers in his case were placed before him. At first he said he could not understand what they meant, but later he proceeded to read them earnestly.

The prisoner is being watched by German detectives. A representative of the American embassy was present in court today watching the case, but Hau has not yet claimed the protection of the United States, nor has he produced his naturalization papers.

OLDEST CLERGYMAN IN WORLD IS DEAD AT CAMBRIDGE

Rev. William Howe, Baptist, Passes Away at Age of One Hundred Years.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 28.—Rev. William Howe, a centenarian and the oldest Baptist clergyman in the world, died today at his home in this city.

Up to his last moment Dr. Howe retained all his faculties. Only a few months ago, on the occasion of his 100th birthday, he attended a meeting of Baptist ministers in Tremont temple, in Boston, and delivered a stirring address. Dr. Howe was born in Worcester and was graduated from Newton Theological seminary. His earliest endeavors took the form of founding a number of Baptist schools in the north end of Boston and he served as pastor of the Union Baptist church and Temple church, which became merged in the present Tremont Temple society under plans formulated by him.

For a great many years Dr. Howe has been intimately identified with Cambridge affairs. He possessed an unusual fund of information as to various aspects of Cambridge history. His longevity and his almost unvarying good health the clergyman attributed to careful and exact habits of living, including regular hours, abundance of sleep and simple diet.

BOLTZ TRIAL IS SET FOR LAST WEEK IN JANUARY

One Demurrer to Indictment Sustained and aBlance Overruled.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 28.—Argument was had today before Judge A. B. Anderson of the federal court on the demurrer of Fred C. Boltz, of Fort Wayne, to the indictment charging him with having received stolen postage stamps. The court sustained the demurrer to the first count in the indictment, but overruled the demurrer to the other four counts. The case is set for trial January 28. The first count is not vital to the indictment and the demurrer to it was on technical grounds. Mr. Boltz was represented by John W. Kern, who asked that the case be not set for trial until January because of his ill health.

THIRD CHARGE FILED.

Mrs. Lucile Fisher has filed an affidavit charging her husband, William Fisher, with assault and battery, making the third charge against Fisher, who is now in jail awaiting trial.

Miss Millie Leeser, of Cleveland, will spend Thanksgiving in this city the guest of relatives.

WOMAN WANTED TO KILL OIL KING

Frenzied Female, Arrested in New York, Declares John D. Rockefeller Ruined Her Husband.

New York, Nov. 28.—Charged with threatening to kill John D. Rockefeller unless he paid her a million dollars, Mrs. Rose Delina Beauvois Handfield, forty years old, was arrested today in front of the offices of the Guardian Trust company in lower Broadway. The arrest was made on a warrant issued by a police magistrate. At the district attorney's office Mrs. Handfield said her husband had been in the oil business, but that he had been ruined by the Standard Oil company. Mrs. Handfield is charged with having forced herself into the office of Mr. Rockefeller's secretary last Friday and declared she wanted a million dollars and that if she did not get it forthwith she would kill Mr. Rockefeller and burn down the building where the company's offices are located. It is charged she displayed a revolver. Some one in the Standard Oil offices made out a check for $1,000,000 drawn to Mrs. Handfield's order and payable at the Guardian Trust company. She accepted it, but was followed to the offices of the trust company. Alfred M. Barrett, the cashier of the trust company, had been notified not to cash the check and when Mrs. Handfield presented it, said that the trust company did not have that amount of money handy at that time. He asked Mrs. Handfield to return Wednesday. Mrs. Handfield agreed to do so and departed. Officials of the Standard Oil company and the Guardian Trust company notified the district attorney's office and a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Handfield was issued by a magistrate. When Mrs. Handfield appeared today she was taken to the district attorney's office and questioned. The district attorney afterwards would not permit Mrs. Handfield to talk to anyone.

JUDGE CHAPIN SEES NO MERIT IN FAMOUS OLD CLAIM

Gensedorff Interests Will Offer Compromise in Rome City Case.

Judge A. A. Chapin, of this city, believes that the old claim sought to be enforced by heirs of the Geisendorff estate against the owners of many summer homes at Rome City, is without merit, and his opinion is based upon the results of investigation which he has been conducting for some time. There is a rumor to the effect that parties who are prosecuting a suit against the cottagers on the Island Park assembly grounds at Rome City will shortly come to Fort Wayne to propose a compromise with the present owners and occupants of the property. Discussing the matter today, Judge Chapin said:

"Personally, I am but very slightly interested in this litigation, but in my opinion the claim of the Geisendorff estate is without merit and that the aim is to induce people to pay something rather than to contest the claim.

"I think so for these reasons: First, many of the lots in the north part of the assembly grounds are not on land ever owned by the Geisendorffs—yet they are made parties to the action. Secondly, over thirty-five years ago Mr. Geo. W. Geisendorff, who then owned the other lands involved, went into bankruptcy and his property was sold by the assignee, Mr. Knisely, now of Toledo, Ohio, who writes me that at the time of the sale Mrs. Geisendorff, whose administrator is now prosecuting the suits, made a quit

HISTORIC OLD DRYDOCK IS CONDEMNED BY NAVY MEN

Wooden Structure at Portsmouth Has Held Fighting Ships of Three Wars.

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 28.—From telegraphic orders received here from the navy department at Washington, stopping all work on the old wooden drydock, it is believed that this historic structure, which has held some of the most famous fighting ships of three American wars, is to be condemned. The dock has been in active service since 1850 and among the vessels it has held are the Constitution, the Kearsarge and the Raleigh. The original cost of the dock was over half a million dollars. In the past two years over $100,000 has been expended in unsuccessful efforts to make it serviceable. Last week Assistant Secretary of the Navy Newberry inspected the plant with Civil Engineer Parks, U. S. N., and upon Mr. Newberry's return to Washington orders were issued stopping the work on the dock. There is understood to have been official opposition to spending more money on the basin.

MRS. O'ROURKE STRICKEN.

Widow of Late Grand Rapids & Indiana Railroad Superintendent Ill.

Mrs. O'Rourke, widow of the late Hon. P. S. O'Rourke, superintendent of the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad and one of the most prominent citizens of northern Indiana, is critically ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Wagoner, of Muncie. According to word received by other members of the family in this city, Mrs. O'Rourke suffered a stroke of paralysis last night and it is not thought her chance for recovery is good. For some time she has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Wagoner in Muncie, where Mr. Wagoner is manager of the Western Union telegraph office. Mrs. O'Rourke's husband died about nine years ago.

"What did the engineer say?" asked Mr. Mills.

"He said he would blow the whistle for us when he was ready to start,' said Gillette.

What Girl Said Barred.

"Then," he continued, "I went back to the hotel and Mr. Morrison told me if I wanted to see all the sights on the lake I'd better take a row boat. I asked Grace which she would rather do and she said—"

There was objection to conversations with the girl now dead and it was sustained. "We went down to the dock and hired a row boat," Gillette went on. "Before leaving the hotel I went in and got my things and hung up Grace's hat."

"What things had you there?" asked Mr. Mills.

"A suit case, camera and a coat."

"What was strapped to the suit case?"

"A tennis racquet in a case and an umbrella."

Crowd Poured In.

When the word that Gillette had taken the stand reached the street the court room began to fill. Hundreds went without dinner so that they might retain seats secured at great effort. When the afternoon session opened the room was filled to its capacity.

Gillette again took up the story of the trip with Grace Brown on Big Moose lake. "We started along the south shore and moved along slowly," he said, "looking for places that Mr. Morrison spoke of. We saw a rustic bridge, open camp and a boat house and then we went to South bay."

South bay is where Grace Brown's death occurred.

To illustrate his narrative, Gillette left his chair and indicate points on the lake and shore as shown on a map. He spoke of little incidents, such as finding a spring, meeting people i na boat and finally took his story to the point where Grace Brown's body and the boat were found.

"We talked about what we ought to do," he said, "and I said we ought not to keep on as we had. I finally said I thought her father and mother ought to know of what had occurred."

Girl Jumped in the Water.

"She said she could not tell her mother and cried. I told her she would have to. She said: 'You don't know my father; you can't tell him.' We taked a little more, then she got up and jumped in the water, just jumped in. I was in the other end leaning back. When I started to get up the boat turned over. When I came up I caught hold of the boat."

"Did you see her?" asked Mr. Mills.

"I could not; after a couple of minutes when I could not see her I swam to the shore. I went off through the woods with my stuff. I had landed near it. My hat was in the water, I guess."

He told of going through the forest and of striking a road, meeting two men in one place and a third further on. About the tennis racquet, he said that it was in the way. "I had my suit case" Gillette said, "and I decided to put the racquet away. I put it under a log in the woods a little way from the road."

Gillette told of visiting Eagle bay, the Arrowhead inlet and his trip to Seventh lake.

Medical Expert Examined.

It was with the expectation of reaching the close of the state's case in the Gillette murder trial before the noon adjournment that District Attorney Ward today continued the examination of Dr. S. S. Richards, the last of the five medical experts employed by the state. Dr. Richards had been cross examined by Mr. Mills, of the defense, to some extent when court adjourned last evening, but in this case as with all the other medical experts, there was an abundance of redirect and re-cross questioning awaiting him today. Dr. Crumb, who acted as medical advisor for the district attorney and who made microscopic examination of the hair found in the boat occupied by Gillette and Miss Brown, said today that he will not take the stand as a witness.

There was the usual large assemblage of spectators at the court house today.

Mr. Mills, of the defense, was asked about the truth of the rumor that the court would adjourn to the Mohawk river bank so that Gillette could show the jury how the boat capsized.

"That is a good story," he said, laughingly, "but it is tame with some of the stuff sent out of Herkimer."

Hunting for a Witness.

A deputy sheriff went to New York today to find Dr. Elsing, who is wanted as a witness for the defense. Dr. Elsing is said to have been at Big Moose when Grace Brown's body was recovered.

The court room was not crowded today when former Senator Mills resumed the cross-examination of Dr. S. S. Richards, of Frankfort, one of the five physicians who performed the autopsy on Grace Brown's body. After some questions by the defense relative to Dr. Richards' failure to bring his typewritten report of the autopsy to court, District Attorney Ward attempted to have Dr. Richards describe the condition of the hair found in the skiff which Gillette used and which is alleged to be Grace Brown's hair.

Dr. Richards said that he found the end of the hair he examined to be torn and broken. "It seemed to have been torn by violence," said the witness, but the defense succeeded in getting that out of the evidence.

"By torn and broken you mean what?" asked the district attorney.

"That it was ragged at the end."

End of State's Testimony.

In response to the prosecutor's questioning, Dr. Richards said the end o. the hair he referred to was not the natural end, but broken and different than that which would be found if the hair had been pulled out. The evidence concerning the hair was not admitted, because the microscopic examination had included but one hair and the physician was unable to identify that particular hair in the bunch that had been offered in evidence.

At 10:40 a. m. District Attorney Ward rested the people's case. Then Mr. Mills for the defense moved for the prisoner's discharge, claiming that the district attorney had failed to produce the eye witness he said he would, that he had produced no witness to the tragedy at all, that he had not produced a preponderance of evidence, that it had not been shown that Grace Brown and Gillette were engaged to be married and that it had not been shown that Grace Brown's wedding clothes had been made. The court interrupted Mr. Mills before he had finished.

Opening Address for Defense.

Mr. Thomas began his opening address for the defense after a brief recess had been taken. He said:

"A week ago we learned from the district attorney what he claimed he would show. In making this opening I join with him in saying you, as jurors, were selected with care. There is not a particle of foundation for many promises of the district attorney. If it were not for his excitable imagination there would be nothing to this case."

Mr. Thomas said the defense had a physician who could swear positively to the condition of Grace Brown's body as it appeared when taken from Big Moose lake.

"It was not shown that Grace Brown and Chester Gillette were engaged to wed. It has only been shown that they should have been or at least should have been married some time.

"The district attorney told you about her wedding clothes. I doubt if any girl of Grace Brown's character would prepare for her wedding with a single dress.

No Eye Witness of Crime.

"The district attorney promised to bring you an eye witness. You remember the earnestness with which he told you that he would bring to you such a witness. He did not do it for such a witness never existed. The records of the autopsy we never had. They were suppressed.

"The district attorney tries to draw a line between the classes to which Grace Brown, a farmer's daughter, belongs, and some other girls, daughters of professional men, but I don't see where the distinction comes in."

Mr. Thomas said Grace Brown suggested that she and Gillette stop off at Big Moose to see the lake. Gillette, after Grace Brown had drowned, did not try to conceal himself, he said.

"Would you be better satisfied if you had the words of Grace Brown's death from the mouth of one who saw her die?" he continued. "Of course you would, every one of you, and you shall have it. It will be a straightforward story of how that girl met her death. When you shall have heard all of the evidence we will be satisfied with your finding."

JUDGE CHAPIN SEES NO MERIT IN FAMOUS OLD CLAIM.

claim deed of her interest in the property, which, if established, will bar her rights in it as wife of the bankrupt. The deed, so far as now known, was not placed on record and is probably lost, but Mr. Knisely, who was an able lawyer, is a competent witness and can testify to the fact if his recollection is as he writes me. Thirdly, Mr. Geisendorff died over twenty-five years ago, and if his wife had any interest in the premises, they then accrued and are now barred by the statute of limitations, as against all who by themselves and their predecessors have occupied the property for twenty years under a claim of the entire title.

"A suit is now pending in the Lagrange circuit court which will test these questions and the new suit just commenced in the Noble circuit court will probably not be tried until the first action is decided.

"Those who have been sued in this last action, however, ought not to let judgment go against them by default. I am informed that several of them have signed an agreement to collectively defend the action."

When the bell rang last night Mr. Stapleford rushed out and caught sight of a tall man running from the coop and he fired two shots at him.

NEW CARPENTER SHOP.

S. F. Bowser Plans Important Improvement at Works.

Ground was broken today for a new addition to the Bowser plant which when completed will be one of the model carpenter shops of the city. The new building will be a one story brick affair and will be in the shape of an L one wing of which will be 40x90 and one 40x40 feet. The building will be a continuation of the newly completed tank shop and will be entirely enclosed by the present buildings. It is expected that it will be ready for occupancy by the first of the year and a large number of new wood working machines have been ordered. The present carpenter shop is entirely inadequate to the needs of the firm and to make more room space has been taken in other departments where a machine or two would be put in operation. The building of the new shop will materially enlarge some of these departments.

formerly been an old elevator shaft and with the door open a draft resulted that quickly spread the fire throughout the building.

At every window could be seen forms of half-naked men, calling to firemen in terror and a few moments later leaping from the burning building to the sidewalks below. Life lines, fastened at windows, provided means of escape for scores of the two hundred lodgers.

Terror Rules the Crowd.

Terror took possession of some of the men and a number of them started to run through the streets as soon as they escaped from the building. Thinly clad, the frenzied men ran wildly until they were pursued and caught and taken in ambulances to places of warmth. Many of them were taken to No. 6 engine house nearby. Dozens were sick from the effects of smoke and gas inhaled. Some of the men, apparently not hurt at all, were crying abjectly and were not able to tell what was the matter with them.

About eighty-five men were crowded into the basement, sleeping, when the fire was discovered. They were unable to get out as the door was apparently locked. The cries attracted the attention of policemen and the basement door was broken in. The men poured out of the basement like rats.

The firemen called to those in the windows not to jump until the nets were placed, but all to little avail for as fast as the flames roared nearer to the windows men jumped and were picked up injured and unconscious.

The fire swept through the second and third floors and damaged the structure to the estimated extent of $2,500. It was an old building. The cause of the fire has not been ascertained.

The seriously injured were taken to the City hospital and two died there. These two had jumped from the windows of the hotel and six others, all of whom were among those who had jumped from upper windows, lie unconscious at the hospital and are not expected to live.

The county commissioners awarded to Becker & Co. a contract for erecting a support beneath a water tank at the county farm. The contract price is $480.

FAIRFIELD HEIGHTS

Probably no addition put out in this city has attracted so much attention and received so much favorable comment as Fairfield Heights. The lots in this addition have had a most phenomenal sale. $40,000.00 worth have already been sold, although they have only been on the market a short time. This large sale is a testimonial to the rapid growth of the southwestern part of the city, and to its desirability as a choice residence quarter. The lots are located only 1½ squares south from the end of the South Wayne car line and the early extension of the line into the addition is practically assured. The ground is high, being about 40 feet higher than at the court house, and values are rapidly increasing. The liberal terms upon which these lots are sold (small weekly payments, without interest or taxes) place them within the easy reach of all, and afford to those who are ambitious to better their condition, not only an opportunity to do so by saving systematically a little more money each week and each year, but also a chance to make a very profitable investment, as these lots will undoubtedly double in value in a few years.

Mr. Lafayette Perkins, who is conducting the sale, states that several choice bargains are still to be had on the same liberal terms, and that salesmen will be on the ground Thanksgiving and one more Sunday, in order to give those who are unable to come out on other days an opportunity to visit the addition and select their lots.

A letter from Bert Lichtenwalter, who is in Los Angeles with his family, states that his son, Robert, who is in poor health, is receiving great benefits from the sojourn in that mild climate. Mr. Lichtenwalter and his family will remain on the Pacific coast during the winter.

Tomorrow the men's and ladies' societies of the St. John's Catholic church of New Haven will combine forces and serve a Thanksgiving dinner and supper in the old church. In connection with this the ladies will have a fancy work booth at which art products and needlework will be sold. Everyone is cordially invited to be present.

EPILETIC FITS

To Successfully and Permanently Cure.

Epilepsy is a chronic, functional disease, of which the spasm is only a symptom. There are a variety of manifestations, but they represent the same disease, only differing in frequency and in intensity of attacks.

The uncertainty of the spasm causes epilepsy to be especially dreaded, as the victim is never safe alone and even when closely watched may be injured by a fall that the most alert watcher could not prevent.

Fortunately a permanent cure has been found for epilepsy. Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer has been successfully curing the most advanced and chronic cases for over fifteen years, and while some few cases have not responded to its treatment, they are very rare and, no doubt, beyond human aid.

Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer has probably cured more cases of true epilepsy than all other forms of treatment combined. In fact those best qualified to know, declare that it is the only permanent cure. In any event it has been very successful. A small booklet, published by the J. W. Brant Co., Albion, Mich., and sent free by them to all who ask for it, contains some very interesting and valuable information that should be in the hands of every epileptic. The following letter is from a patient successfully cured.

EDWARD COOPER, CLEVELAND, OHIO.

At ten years I was afflicted with fits, that occurred five, ten, and even twenty-one times a day and continued for eight years. I was treated for a year in a medical college in this city, and discharged as incurable. The four succeeding years one doctor after another tried and failed. The Albert Dispensary took my case on a $500 forfeit to effect a cure. They, too, failed—all agreed my case was incurable. My father was induced to try Dr. Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer on account of its reputation as a nerve medicine. Almost the first dose produced a change. I continued to improve with each dose, until I was absolutely cured. I affirm by oath that this statement is correct in every particular. Edward Cooper, Cleveland, Ohio. RUPTURE

Fort Wayne Specialist Announces That a New Method is Now in Vogue—Cures Without Operation.

—o—

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of recent times is a new method of curing rupture without an operation or the use of irritant injections. Within the last year thousands of men have been cured who had worn trusses for many years. There is no cutting or pain and no detention from business. The truss is discarded at once. Not all cases are amenable to this method, but over 80 per cent. are cured by it, and no charges whatever are made unless the case is successfully cured. A limited number of patients in Fort Wayne will be cured free of charge as a means of introducing the treatment here.

GIRL PROCLAIMS GREAT LOVE FOR MAN OF HER CHOICE

Tells Policeman She is Willing to Go Through Hot Place for Lover.

When Dora Bidlack, fresh from the rural districts, where she inhaled fresh air and pure morals, applied a short time ago to a prominent west end family for a position as a domestic she was welcomed with open arms, because domestics are scarce and again Dora apparently belonged to that class that brought about the coining of the word jewel as it now refers to accomplished servant girls.

Late yesterday afternoon the p. w. e. f. was surprised by the call of Patrolman Bob Dickson, who carried with him a warrant charging that Dora had fractured the moral code in several distinct places and that her partner in crime was one William Fisher, a painter, living on South Lafayette street.

The family protested that Dora could not be guilty, as she had always been demure and faithful, but the majesty of the law demanded her arrest and she was taken. To the patrolman, who asked her if she felt sore about being pinched, she confided that she did not, announcing that she would go through satan's domain for Fisher, and she seemed greatly consoled when told that he had been arrested and was also at the station. In the city court this morning both were arraigned and their cases continued until Friday morning.

Mrs. Fisher is the complaining witness and stated that she had been thrown out of her bed room by the couple and locked out and that her husband is not supporting her. He will answer two charges Friday.

The Other Cases.

William Hahn and Fred Worden each paid fines of $10 and costs for permitting John Merica, a minor to loiter in their saloons. They had been warned not to allow the lad, who is nineteen years old, to come into their places.

Edward Dickerson got $1 and costs for drunkenness.

Capt. J. H. Rohan and son, Edward Rohan, have returned from Chicago, where they were visiting Captain Rohan's daughter, Mrs. James Hughes.

H. A. Keplinger goes to Chicago to spend Thanksgiving with his daughter, who is attending school there.

JUNIOR CIVIC LEAGUE IS EXPLAINED IN LETTER FROM WOMAN

Chairman of Civic Improvement Department Tells of School Work.

The organization denominated the Junior Civic league, instituted among the public school children of Fort Wayne, is now more or less familiar to the people of Fort Wayne. The purpose of the Junior league is to enlist the interest of children in some aspects of good citizenship and to inculcate in the young a spirit of civic pride. The civic improvement department of the Woman's Club league is actively promoting and immediately directing this laudable work. Already two thousand children have promised to give their aid to make Fort Wayne a clean and beautiful city. Seven of the public schools have thus far been organized. Funds are needed to carry the organization into the eight remaining schools. The civic improvement department of the Woman's Club league has sent out a postal card appeal for small donations to acquire needed funds, the idea being to give the creation of the fund a popular character and to create a general interest. Those who have received the cards and desire to respond to the appeal may leave their donations at The Sentinel office counting room. Any who may have been inadvertently overlooked in the mailing of the cards are not denied the privilege of making their contributions and it is hoped that any such will do so.

The expense incurred in the work of organization ensues from the purchase of Junior Civic league buttons and printed pledges. In brief the pledges obligate the children who become members not to spit on the sidewalks; not to strew paper or refuse; not to injure trees, shrubs or flowers; not to deface fences or buildings. The president of the civic improvement department of the Woman's Club league issues the following statement, which is sufficiently self-explanatory:

The Civic Improvement department of the Woman's Club league has sent out over 200 postal cards asking for cash donations, thereby enabling them to establish Junior Civic leagues in the eight remaining public schools of the city. Two thousand children in the seven schools where the Junior Civic leagues have been formed at the cost of $30, have promised to make Fort Wayne a clean and a beautiful city by not doing these things: Spitting on the sidewalk, strewing paper or refuse, injuring trees, flowers or shrubs, defacing fences or buildings.

A marked improvement in the surroundings of the school grounds has been reported from the schools where the boys and girls have signed the pledges and the work already so well begun by the Woman's Club league much appeals to everyone who has the interest and love of their home town at heart and to anyone who possesses the noble feeling of civic pride.

It is a fact not to be disputed that civic training in early youth forms habits of good citizenship that are invaluable in after life, both to the individual and to society, and these Junior Civic leagues are great developers of thought and conscience and civic spirit. As for instance, a little girl who had signed the civic pledge, was visiting on the porch of a grown-up friend this summer and eating peanuts. When she had finished she asked the lady where she should throw the shells, and the hostess replied: "O, just anywhere." But with surprised and even indignant look the child replied: "Why, Miss Dolly, don't you know that I have promised not to strew peanut shells just anywhere?"

Thus a deserved rebuke was given and when the education along this line becomes strong enough to shame us into cleaner swept streets and better kept alleys then will our efforts have not been in vain.

Chairman of Civic Improvement Dept., Woman's Club League.

By far the most democratic court in Europe is that of King Haakon, of Norway. The hardy Norsemen who gave such cordial welcome to King Edward's son-in-law insist on simplicity in the royal surroundings. There are no hereditary distinctions or titles at court, even the queen's ladies-in-waiting being plain "Mrs." or its equivalent in the Norse tongue.

Nikola Tesla has made public acknowledgment that he is a great man, even going the length of making oath to that effect. He was witness in a law case last week in New York when a lawyer asked: "Are you not a promoter and inventor?" "I am not a promoter and have never received a fee," Tesla answered. "I am an inventor and rank among the foremost men of the age."

Baron Henri De Rothschild, the millionaire doctor of medicine, attended at the Academy of Medicine in Paris, where Dr. Poirier, at the close of a masterly lecture, expressed regret that France had no cancer institute. Baron Henri sent up a note to the lecturer expressing his pleasure at the lecture and inclosing a "little cheque toward the preliminary expenses of the institute," which represented $20,000.

A new Daniel has come to judgment on the Shakespeare-Bacon controversy and airily declares that neither one nor the other wrote the Shakespeare plays. Dr. Karl Bleibtreu, a noted German authority on literature and history, is the one who puts forward this view, coupling it with the claim that the man who did write the plays was Roger, earl of Rutland, who was born Oct. 6, 1576, and who was a son-in-law of Sir Philip Sidney. Dr. Bleibtreu has devoted much research to English history, but he hardly lives up to his name, which is translated "remain true," for he has previously written a book controverting the Baconian claims and declaring Shakespeare the real author—a view which he now repudiates.

The house of representatives will not have simplified spelling. This was developed in the first session of the sub-committee having in charge the framing of the legislative bill which will be reported to the house the first week of the session. Although the subject does not come up on this particular bill, it could not well be overlooked, as the book of estimates came before the committee printed in accordance with the orders of the president. It developed that every member of the sub-committee was opposed to simplified spelling. Public Printer Stillings will be called before the committee tomorrow to explain his estimates, and the committee will then get some light as to the additional cost imposed by having these documents printed in two forms of spelling.

Talk of additional railway rate legislation at the coming session of congress is said by those who profess to know to be wholly idle. The constitutional problems embraced by the Hepburn bill are of such vital importance that rulings from the supreme court are felt to be necessary before the law of last session is added to or subtracted from. Just when the nation's highest judicial tribunal will construe the constitutional phases of the law is not known, but it is believed that a considerable period will elapse before any decision is had. The Texas rate case, alluded to in these columns a short time since, may furnish the earliest occasion for the supreme court to make a deliverance upon the rate-making power of a commission created by congress. Meanwhile the law will be enforced according to the best light those charged with application of provisions can get. But there is not likely to be any tampering with the Hepburn measure. If there were no better reason, the fact that the coming session of congress is the short term, ending March 4th next, the brevity of the season for discussion of rate matters would argue against taking it up.

Senator Benjamin R. Tillman, of South Carolina, custodian of the pitchfork and chief exponent in this country of radical race prejudice, went to Chicago, delivered his lecture, displayed himself, exploited his views, used some profanity, caused a disturbance and got out of town again and suffered no injury to his person or possessions. The colored people who protested against Tillman's appearance and sought to question his right to be heard made a mistake. Their protest came to nothing save the best advertisement the South Carolina statesman has ever had, save perhaps his personal encounters in the senate of the United States. If no attention had been paid to his visit to Chicago it would have attracted no more attention than a hundred other similar appearances he has made as a lecturer. As it was, he had a house full, a spectacular setting of circumstances and a series of grotesque and almost sensational interferences with the orderly progress of his lecture. That suited him. Tillman is at his best, perhaps, in a wordy encounter. Without such an accompaniment to his Chicago lecture his remarks would have been familiar and commonplace, for he had to say there nothing that he had not from his seat in the senate or from Chautauqua platforms enunciated a hundred times. Tillman got far and away the best of his Chicago engagement, leaving altogether out any consideration of the stipulated price paid him for appearing. The greatest offset the colored people of the north can establish to the influence of Tillman and his ranting is to pay no attention to him. He isn't worth it. He doesn't represent any phase of normal sentiment in the north and he can authoritatively speak for little of the sentiment of people of the south.

MAN OR BOY

We have been showing and selling clothing for a great many years—there are customers coming here today who first came a score of years ago. We wish right here to thank them for their confidence and patronage. We aim to treat every person in such a manner that we shall be able in another year to thank a still larger number of satisfied customers, and so on for a number of years to come. We know full well that we cannot make satisfied customers unless we sell them satisfactory clothing. We are thankful that we have located the most reliable manufacturers of clothing for man, youth and child. We do not confine ourselves to any one manufacturer's make, but purchase of specialists in each individual line. The men's garments come from several concerns who devote their energies and talents in perfecting a garment to please a certain class of men and so with the young men's and children's garments. They are made under the guiding hand of a genius. When you buy clothing here it is sold you with the distinct understanding that no transaction is closed until you have had complete satisfaction.

Isn't it something to be thankful for when you know positively that when in need of wearing apparel, no matter whether it is a man's suit at

For Bronchitis

TAKE VINOL
it heals the bronchial tubes and remedies the cough

For centuries old-fashioned cod liver oil has been prescribed by physicians the world over for coughs, bronchitis, weak lungs and consumption, but many could not take it on account of the useless fatty, fishy oil which enveloped the medicinal curatives, and it often failed to help those who could take it because it upset the stomach.

Anyone can take the delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol, which contains all the medicinal curatives and body-building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but no oil or grease, and wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions would do good, Vinol will do far more good for all bronchial and lung troubles.

Every person in Fort Wayne suffering from chronic colds, coughs, bronchitis or weak lungs should try Vinol on our guarantee. Meyer Bros. Co., Druggists, Two Big Stores.

NOTE.—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Fort Wayne, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

Can You Use Food When You Get It?

Thousands of Stomachs Starving Where Mouths Are Well Fed—Costs Nothing to Relieve This Condition.

Eating is fast becoming too much a part of the daily routine, if not a mere tickling of the appetite—a thing to be gotten out of the way as quickly as possible. Little thought is given to "what kind of food," its effect upon the system and whether it will be of use in building up the tissues of the body.

Your stomach will revolt, if it is not already doing so. It must shut up for repairs. What of the dizziness, and sometimes pain, which stop you after a hurried lunch? What of the general distress after a heavy dinner, a feeling of pressure against the heart which calls a halt and makes the breathing difficult? Is it common for you to be oppressed with belching and sour eructations? Are you constipated and then do you laughingly toss a dime to the druggist for his most palatable relief? Beware of temporary cures that are but palliatives. Many antidotes for the common ills which our flesh is heir to seem at first to relieve, but in reality, if not injecting poison into the system, lay the foundation for a deeper-seated and more far-reaching disorder.

Three-fourths of all diseases originate with a breaking-down of the digestion and nine-tenths of all digestive troubles originate with one or more of the symptoms named above.

Beware, then, of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. If you find yourself aching, listless, lacking in ambition when you should be on the alert,
Do not doctor the stomach.
It needs a rest from food and drugs.
Do not flush out the bowels.
It takes more than forcing food through the passageway to make blood and tissue and nerve.
Do not starve your stomach.
Food is a thing to be worked for all there is in it and your stomach will do the work if you will help it in Nature's way.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but the natural elements which enter into the healthy stomach and intestines to perform the function of digestion. Governmental tests and the investigations and sworn oaths of expert chemists attest this fact. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets go to the source of the trouble and positively restore the glands and fluids of the mucous membrane to their proper condition. They promptly relieve the distress of all troubles originating in the stomach or bowels (with the one exception of cancer).

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are recommended by physicians and all reliable pharmacists. If you are a sufferer from indigestion or dyspepsia, try a fifty cent package today. At all druggists', or if you prefer send us your name and address and we will gladly send you a trial package by mail free. F. A. Stuart Co., 63 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

BENDER REUNION.

Notable Family Gathering Is Held In Perry Township.

A reunion of the various members of the Bender family was held Sunday at the home of Henry Rhinehold, of Perry township, in honor of an aged uncle, David Bender, of Waterloo, Ia., who is visiting his nieces and nephews in Indiana. The surviving members of the elder Bender families include David Bender, jr., of Kendallville; Truman Bender, of Angola; George Bender and Mrs. John Warner, of Big Rapids, Mich.; Mrs. Alex Warner, near Auburn; William H. Bender, of Huntertown, and Samuel F. Bender and Mrs. I. F. Rodenbaugh, both of Fort Wayne. The main feature of the day, as is usual on occasions of this kind, was the dinner served by the ladies present, and roses were used in the table decorations. David Bender, of Waterloo, the guest of honor, is 80 years of age. He enlisted in the Mexican war, and later served four years as a commissary sergeant in the civil war. He is a brother of Mrs. M. E. Crocker, of San Francisco, and interested in the Leland Stanford university near that city.

LACK EVIDENCE IN GRAFT SUIT.

Feared Entire Frisco Investigation May Fail of Results.

San Francisco, Nov. 28.—The graft investigation yesterday was practically confined to an inspection of the books of the supervisors, but so far as known nothing startling was developed. Coffroth, who was summoned to appear before the grand jury and explain some of his testimony, was excused, so that he might attend the O'Brien-Burns prize fight at Los Angeles. The probing of the Belvedere case and disorderly houses was also postponed until today.

The slow progress being made by the grand jury and the failure to indict Ruef or Schmitz or any of the supervisors on any of the charges on which Heney and Burns are said to have claimed that they had good evidence have aroused the fear that the whole investigation will flash in the pan just as others have done. It is alleged that the evidence in most of the graft cases falls short of warranting an indictment.

Believing that if Ruef and Schmitz can get strong endorsement at the Thursday reception it will go a good way toward influencing popular sentiment in their favor, every effort is being made by their following to secure a large attendance. Circulars urging the people to give Mayor Schmitz fair play were scattered broadcast over the city yesterday.

COUNCILMEN TRAIN GUNS ON LOCAL TRACTION COMPANY

Three Ordinances Offered Providing for Improvements—Other Matters.

Members of the city council trained their guns on the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company last night and ordinances were offered providing for push buttons on all the city cars, to prevent passengers from standing on rear platforms and compelling the corporation to equip its local cars with air brakes. All were passed to a second reading and referred to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances. These measures were introduced by Mr. Henry, Capt. Harrison and Mr. Johnson.

The session opened with communications from the city comptroller recommending appropriations of $900 for the department of public safety for the purchase of a team of horses killed in a collision with a traction car, to repair a wagon damaged at the same time and to pay for feed; $200 for the board of public works for sewer repairs, $550 for the same department for the disposal of garbage and $3,116.82 to pay the salaries due former officials for their extended terms and increased pay. All of the measures were incorporated in ordinances which went to a second reading and were referred to proper committees.

An ordinance fixing the salaries of the waterworks employes and increasing the pay of the secretary from $1,800 to $2,000 was offered and referred to the committee on fees and salaries. Another attempt to annex territory east of Glasgow avenue from the Maumee river to the Findlay tracks extending east to New Haven avenue came in the shape of two measures providing for its addition to the city. It was referred. This was vetoed last January by Mayor Hosey.

The ordinance providing for blanketing cab horses that stand on the streets during the winter months and one approving the garbage contract for next year were passed. A discussion of the smoke ordinance was provoked by Dr. Stemen who said he had been informed that the members were telling their constituents that it would be a dead letter and that members of the school board had been informed that only the kind in use on the city hall could be used by the school board. This was corrected by the members, who denied having told anybody that the measure would not be enforced and by the further explanation that the school board had been advised not to make any purchases until the one on the city hall has been given a good trial of sixty days. The ordinance is not effective until Jan. 1.

Then Mr. Johnson took a parting shot at the traction company by stating he had been informed that the new current is out of proportion to the old meters and that the cost of light is being increased. The board of public works was asked to investigate.

Symptoms that Deceive the Most Practiced Eye

Indications that Are Often Wrongly Construed.

As the causes of disease often lie beyond our sight, we learn their nature by the symptoms exhibited, but that the real cause of suffering is many times mistaken for the symptoms of disease, is demonstrated daily.

Many persons afflicted with "so-called" chronic diseases are using today, and have been for years, remedies and treatments that are absolutely no action on the real cause of their sufferings and they gradually lose all confidence in medicines and physicians. On the other hand, some people expect too quick results from the use of medicine and change from one remedy to another. In many cases the results obtained are almost immediate and wonderfully beneficial, but are only secured by the use of medicine that is intended and prepared to act on the different organs of the body all at the same time.

A case reported September 6th illustrates this forcibly. Mr. John E. Allen, 604 South Main Street, South Bend, Indiana, suffered for years with what was thought to be stomach and kidney trouble. He was subject to severe pains in the small of the back; pains between the shoulder blades; highly colored urine, palpitation of the heart, dizzy sensations and constant headaches. After eating, the food would not digest properly, felt like so much lead in the stomach, which would bloat and swell; gases, griping and suffocating sensations, belching, sour stomach and foul breath followed and he was always constipated.

The use of Quaker Herb Extract has entirely cured him. It did not merely form a temporary relief—it removed the real cause of his suffering. There was no doubt, no supposition, no imagination about it. The cause was there before him.

Mr. Allen had been suffering for years from the ravages of a parasite (tapeworm) and the real cause of his trouble was never suspected.

Below is his statement, given in his own words and sworn to:

I beg to hereby certify that I expelled on September 5th, 1906, a tapeworm, complete with head, measuring nearly thirty feet in length. I had been tortured and pestered with this monster for years. I purchased one bottle of Quaker Herb Extract on Monday, September 3rd (Labor Day) at Woods & Striebel's Public Drug Store of this city. I began taking the medicine at once. On September 5th I passed the worm. I did not have to resort to starvation and I have experienced no ill after-effects.

How Teddy Bear Came to Wear Clothes

Story of How Children's Play Fellow Obtained His Wardrobe.

By MRS. JANE FORD.

This is the story of some bears—a whole lot of little fellows, that were born in a country called Germany. You may not know that that is a place way across the big ocean, where the people talk in a queer language, so that neither you nor I could understand what they were saying wer. they to speak to us.

There, in a big city, long, long ago little bear was, born. It was a bi city, but not like New York, for ther were no tall office buildings, ano houses with high, brownstone steps leading up to them, but instead were low buildings and the houses were only two stories, with little white steps in front. There all the little girls had long flaxen hair, plaited as tight as tight could be, and on holidays and feast days their mammas let it fall about their shoulders in crinkley masses, tied with blue ribbons. All little boys had light hair, too, and es as blue as the sky, like their sisers. I know you are wondering what all this had to do with the little bear. As he grew older and began to observe he wondered, too. So one day he decided to run away. But where was he to go?

He waited until night time, and then, when the big moon was shining round and full, he scampered off in the dark. First he went through long streets, with houses close together on either side. Then the houses got fewer and fewer, and by and by there were hardly any at all. He began to get a little frightened at the long shadows cast by a tree that he passed now and then, and thought of turning back. Just then he saw before him a big field, stretching out in the moonlight, and in it—not a house, or a tree, or a little light haired, blue eyed boy or girl—but what do you suppose? A whole lot of bears, just like himself.

He had never seen his papa or mamma that he remembered, so he was very much surprised and did not know what to make of them. One of them saw him and spoke to him, and then all the others came around him. It seemed that they lived in a great woods called the Black Forest, not very far away. On nights when the moon shone bright and clear they all came out into the field and danced around and had a good time in the way that bears do. This little fellow had no idea how that was, so they had to show him. They played tag and blind man's buff and all sorts of games, but not the same way that boys and girls play. Perhaps it was rougher; but they were bears, and what else could be expected? Then, too, they did not have the same things to play with, and the blind man had to put his paw to cover his eyes, instead of a handkerchief. Can you imagine a bear running about a field in the moonlight with his paw covering his eyes and a lot of other bears scampering about to keep out of his reach?

At last, when they were all quite tired out, they decided to go back to the forest. The little fellow did his best to keep up with them, but they had all disappeared from sight before he reached the border of the woods. Then he sank right down and went to sleep under a big fir tree.

The sun was high up in the sky before he awoke next morning. He opened his eyes and sat up and looked about. Then he began to realize he was very hungry. Where to get anything to eat he did not know. He went into the woods and there sure enough were some of the bears prowling around, too. The bear who had spoken to him the night before took him to a place where a quantity of little red berries grew on tiny plants. These he found were very good to eat, and he had a fine breakfast. Then, as he had been up very late, he began to be sleepy again, and the bear took him to a cave where he was snug and warm. It was a hole right in the solid rock, and before the door was another rock, so close that it was all they could do to get through the narrow passageway formed by the two and enter the cave. Everything was green and mossy, for it was early spring. It was very beautiful and unlike anything our little friend had ever seen. Many nights he stayed here, and then, when the moon came again, they all went out into the open and danced about as they had before.

It was very pleasant and he liked it very much, and thought he would never go back to the city. But one night Jack Frost came along, and the north wind blew. All the pretty moss had turned brown, and the leaves were falling from the trees, and winter was coming on. Then the trees would all be bare and the snow would cover the ground, and there would be no delicious berries to eat. For the first time he thought of his little mistress and how she must have missed him.

Then he gathered all the bears around him, and told them he must leave them. He told them all about his old home, and that he wanted to return to it. They had grown to like him very, very much, and could not let him go away from them. He wondered what he should do, and thought of slipping away in the night again, when suddenly it came to him how nice it would be to take all his friends back to the city with him, and when he told them they were delighted. That night, when everybody was asleep, a band of bears trooped into the town.

The next day little Christina Schmidt was sent by her mother to the attic, to bring down the piece bag. There, right on the top of it sat "Teddy Bear." She came down stairs crying, "Oh, mother! mother, I have found 'Teddy Bear,' that I thought was lost and gone for good. Now, I must make him some clothes, for it is getting cold winter, and I know he will freeze if I don't."

What was her surprise when she went out carrying "Teddy" dressed in a little knickerbocker suit, to see her friend Katrina with a bear dressed like a little Indian. She found that that morning every little girl in the city had found a bear in her house. Each child has dressed hers in some pretty costume. But nobody knew how it happened that the bears were there that morning; and often the little fellows laughed among themselves, as they thought how they had surprised the children.

Sauter-Holzhen.

Miss Frances Holzhen, of Grand Rapids, and Mr. Anthony Sauter, formerly of Fort Wayne, were married at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Mary's church of Grand Rapids. The bridal party entered the church promptly to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. Professor Thiesan was the organist. The bride was attended by Miss Catherine Schmidt as bridesmaid and Edward H. Reed, of Fort Wayne, was best man to the groom. The bride, who is winning and charming both in manner and in character, wore a lovely gown of white batiste elaborately trimmed with Irish point lace. A veil of tulle was caught to the hair with white roses and the bouquet was of white chrysanthemums. Miss Schmidt's gown was an embroidered white Persian lawn. White chrysanthemums formed her bouquet. The decorations of the bride's table at the breakfast which followed the church ceremony were pink and white roses. Mr. and Mrs. Sauter will be at home at 77 Third street, Grand Rapids, Mich., after Dec. 20.

Cranberry Sherbet—To make this delicious, up-to-date accompaniment to the Thanksgiving turkey boil one quart of cranberries in one quart of water until the skins burst; strain and add two cupfuls of sugar, the juice of two lemons and one tablespoonful of gelatin which has been softened in cold water and dissolved over hot water. Freeze to a mush, using equal parts of ice and salt. Double recipe.

Pilgrim Soup—Chop one can of corn, add two cupfuls of chicken stock; bring slowly to the boiling point and boil fifteen minutes; then rub through a sieve. Scald two cupfuls of milk with one slice of onion, remove the onion and add the milk to the corn. Melt one and one-half tablespoonfuls of butter, add one and one-half tablespoonfuls of flour and pour on the hot mixture gradually, while stirring constantly. Add salt and a few grains of popped corn to each portion. (Miss Farmer.)

New England Plum Pudding—This old-fashioned cracker pudding is as delicious today as when baked by our grandmothers in the old-time brick oven. Pour four cupfuls of hot scalded milk over one and one-fourth cupfuls of rolled crackers. When cool add one cupful of sugar, four eggs slightly beaten, one-half of a grated nutmeg, one teaspoonful of salt and one-third of a cupful of melted butter. Parboil one and one-third cupfuls of raisins until soft; seed and add to the mixture. Turn into a buttered pudding dish and bake very slowly two and one-half hours, stirring occasionally to prevent the raisins from settling. Serve with whipped cream or Colonial Sauce.

Colonial Sauce—Cream one-fourth of a cupful of butter, add two well beaten egg yolks and one-half cupful of cream. Flavor with one teaspoonful of vanilla. Cook in double boiler until hot and the consistency of cream, then pour over the whites of two eggs beaten until stiff.

OLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPEN
BY IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

Whenever a sore refuses to heal it is because the blood is not pure and healthy, as it should be, but is infected with poisonous germs or some old blood taint which has corrupted and polluted the circulation. Those most usually afflicted with old sores are persons who have reached or passed middle life. The vitality of the blood and strength of the system have naturally begun to decline, and the poisonous germs which have accumulated because of a sluggish and inactive condition of the system, or some hereditary taint which has hitherto been held in check, now force an outlet on the face, arms, legs or other part of the body. The place grows red and angry, festers and eats into the surrounding tissue until it becomes a chronic and stubborn ulcer, fed and kept open by the impurities with which the blood is saturated. Nothing is more trying and disagreeable than a stubborn, non-healing sore. The very fact that it resists ordinary remedies and treatments is good reason for suspicion; the same germ-producing cancerous ulcers is back of every old sore, and especially is this true if the trouble is an inherited one. Washes, salves, nor indeed anything else, applied directly to the sore, can do any permanent good; neither will removing the sore with caustic plasters or the surgeon's knife make a lasting cure. If every particle of the diseased flesh were taken away another sore would come, because the trouble is in the blood, and the BLOOD CANNOT BE CUT AWAY. The cure must come by a thorough cleansing of the blood. In S. S. S. will be found a remedy for sores and ulcers of every kind. It is an unequalled blood purifier—one that goes directly into the circulation and promptly cleanses it of all poisons and taints. It gets down to the very bottom of the trouble and forces out every trace of impurity and makes a complete and lasting cure. S. S. S. changes the quality of the blood so that instead of feeding the diseased parts with impurities, it nourishes the irritated, inflamed flesh with healthy blood. Then the sore begins to heal, new flesh is formed, all pain and inflammation leaves, the place scabs over, and when S. S. S. has purified the blood the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores. Write for our special book on sores and ulcers and any other medical advice you desire. We make no charge for the book or advice.

I was afflicted with a sore on my face of four years' standing. It was a small pimple at first but it gradually grew larger and worse in every way until I became alarmed about it and consulted several physicians. They all treated me but the sore continued to grow worse. I saw S. S. S. advertised and commenced its use and after taking it a while I was completely cured. My blood is now pure and healthy from the effect of S. S. S., and there has not been any sign of the sore since S. S. S. cured it.

Headliners in St. Joe Athletic Club's Thanksgiving Program.

OTTO SIELOFF,
Favorite and Game Performer in Welterweight Class Who Battles With Jimmy Gardiner at Princess Rink Tomorrow Night.

JIMMY GARDINER,
Welterweight Champion of the World Who Meets Sieloff Tomorrow Night at Princess Rink.

OTTO SIELOFF ARRIVED IN CITY TODAY FOR HIS CONTEST

Jimmy Gardiner Finishes Training and All is Ready for Battle.

Everything is practically in readiness for the St. Joe Athletic club's boxing exhibition at Princess rink tomorrow evening. The headliners on the program, Jimmy Gardiner and Otto Sieloff, are both reported to be in perfect condition for their ten-round go and the other boys on the card will be found ready, so all accounts say, for their part in the entertainment.

Otto Sieloff, the strong German boy who will match his strength and gameness against Gardiner's skill and ring generalship, arrived from Chicago this afternoon accompanied by his manager, Mr. Howard. Sieloff feels fit for the strenuous trying out the welterweight champion is prepared to furnish him and his friends and backers feel confident of the result. Gardiner does not underestimate his man and will start the fastest mill this town probably has seen. To superb science, splendid endurance and surpassing strategy Gardiner unites distinct hard-hitting proclivities that gives him a species of distinction among scientific boxers of the first-class. Against this proposition comes Sieloff with a skill of his own as a boxer together with tremendous strength, a fatal punch, splendid endurance and an appetite for punishment that no quantity of drubbing can cloy. The go between these top-notch, but distinctly different men, will furnish the best amusement fight fans of this city have seen since the day long gone when Tommy White and George Siddons—premiers in their class—battled in a prolonged contest to a drawn game.

Gardiner, who has for a week been training in Fort Wayne practically finished his preparatory work this morning with a ten-mile run. He announces himself in great shape.

The program for tomorrow night is the best yet arranged by the St. Joe club and the crowd promises to be the best in that successful organization's history. Large blocks of seats have been reserved by out of town boxing admirers and Thanksgiving night will come with assurance of passing agreeably for sport-loving on this section of the map.

MILLIONAIRE OGDEN IS FINED.

Madison Man Assessed $100 for Leasing Hotel for Immoral Purposes.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 28.—Millionaire F. A. Ogden was found guilty and fined $100 yesterday for leasing a hotel for immoral purposes. He gave notice of appeal. Six years ago he was convicted of a similar offense and lost appeals to circuit and supreme courts.

"I am being persecuted by city officials because they think I dodge taxation by maintaining my legal residence in Chicago and thus failing to pay my personal property taxes on mortgages," said Ogden. "Four years ago I offered the city free a library site, but the library committee wanted cash and would select its own site. They are grafters."

Ogden owns hundreds of farms and some rich gold mines, besides valuable interests in Chicago.

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR YOUNG SOLDIER WHO DIED IN WEST

Remains of Sergeant W. J. Miller Arrive from Vancouver Barracks, Wash.

The remains of Sergeant William John Miller, whose death occurred from typhoid fever at Vancouver barracks, Washington, on August 29, arrived in Fort Wayne this morning and funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the residence of Henry Lammeyer, 1313 Ewing street, and at 2 o'clock from Emanuel Lutheran church. The young soldier's remains will be interred at Concordia cemetery with military honors, a firing squad and a bugler from the ranks of the young veterans performing this office.

Sergeant Miller was 21 years of age and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Miller, formerly of this city, but now residing in Detroit. The father and mother have been in the city several weeks awaiting the arrival of the remains of their son, but delay was occasioned by the presence of floods in the west. The young man enlisted three years ago in the Fourteenth United States cavalry, and was stationed at Walla Walla, Wash. Immediately following the earthquake at San Francisco he was sent in charge of sixty men to that city to do guard duty in the days following the city's destruction. Returning after some weeks to Walla Walla, he accompanied his regiment to Vancouver for the summer camp of instruction, and while there was stricken by typhoid fever, his death occurring in the military hospital at Vancouver Barracks.

BIG CROWDS AT FESTIVAL.

Annual Affair at St. Peter's Church Is Big Success.

The annual fall festival at the school hall of St. Peter's Catholic church is proving to be a great success. The hall last evening was jammed to the doors and officials in charge of the affair say that not fifty more people could have gotten into the place. The success of the fair is quite gratifying and it is expected that tonight will prove to be a record-breaker, as this is to be everybody's night.

Last night was the married people's evening and they turned out in full force. In contests for pillows Mrs. Frank Wiegand and Mrs. Al Walsh were successful. This afternoon at 3 o'clock the children's contests were pulled off. A foot ball was awarded to the most popular boy in the seven rooms of the school and a doll to the most popular girl. Tomorrow at 3 o'clock the grand drawing will take place and tomorrow night the beautiful sideboard will be awarded to the most popular lady in the church. In the latter contest there are two entries, Mrs. I. Gruber and Mrs. C. Metzler.

Tomorrow the ladies of the church will serve an old fashioned Thanksgiving dinner at noon in the school hall and in the evening they will serve an old fashioned Thanksgiving supper.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Nov. 28.—Opening prices showed considerable gains over last night's level and the demand was active and well distributed. St. Paul, Great Northern preferred and New York Central were carried up 1½, Delaware & Hudson 1¼ and Rock Island preferred a point. The other prominent speculative favorites advanced a large fraction generally, the list including Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Reading, Atchison, Kansas & Texas, Denver & Rio Grande, Ontario & Western, General Electric, Virginia-Carolina Chemical and American Ice.

Early operations were similar to those of late, the market running off after the high opening and then steadying for a while, when special stocks were advanced. Reading surrendered a gain of a point and reactions reached ½ or more in other favorites. Manhattan was lifted 1. Virginia Iron, Brooklyn Transit and Virginia-Carolina Chemical 1½ and Great Northern preferred 2, but these advances were partly lost. The market was showing general heaviness around 11 o'clock. Some stocks relapsed to a parity with last night or below, Kansas & Texas losing 1½ and Northern Pacific 1⅜.

There was important buying of New York Central to 2½ points over last night. The general market fell into neglect as usual, preceding a holiday. General Electric rose 1⅝ and New York, Chicago & St. Louis and Chicago & Alton 1. Central Railroad of New Jersey sold at a decline of 1¾ and Reading and Colorado & Southern second preferred 1. Bonds were irregular.

Attempts to market stock caused a lower range of prices, especially for Pennsylvania and its affiliated stocks. There was little effort made to support any of the leaders in the face of a 7½ per cent money rate. Distillers Securities and Pressed Steel Car preferred gained about a point.

In the afternoon the selling movement showed evidence of having spent itself, but the market did not recover much ground. Reading rallied nearly a point, but the changes in other stocks were unimportant.

Day's Happenings in the Industrial World

GIVE STEWART A CHAIR.

Pennsylvania Employes Remember a Comrade Who Is Unfortunate.

George P. Stewart, the Pennsylvania train dispatcher who has been sorely afflicted by spinal trouble for several years, is the recipient of a handsome adjustable, rubber tired invalid chair, presented by the company's dispatchers, telegraph operators and conductors at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Tim Costello and George Franks, representing the dispatchers, and James Rowan and George Bonter, representing the conductors, composed the committee of presentation, and the affair took place at the residence of Mr. Stewart, 434 Baker street. Mr. Stewart commenced work with the Pennsylvania company at Plymouth when he was a boy and from messenger he passed in rapid succession through the positions which preceded that of train dispatcher, assuming the latter duty in 1893, when the Columbian exposition was in progress in Chicago. Five or six years ago he was stricken with the malady which has since made him an invalid. He will be able to get around more readily with his new chair.

THIRTEEN YEARS IN SERVICE.

H. C. Stoll Begins Another Year on Penny Police Force.

Yesterday Capt. Henry C. Stoll rounded out the thirteenth year of his service in the Pennsylvania police department. Besides being one of the best, he is the pioneer railway policeman in this part of the country. Feeling the need of protection to its property, the Pennsylvania company employed Captain Stoll as a "detective," to work in the yards and about the depot, November 27, 1893, and two or three months later, when the present excellent police system was organized, he was placed at the head of the department on the Western division. The high standard of excellence attained by this branch of the system attests to the wisdom of that choice and placed Captain Stoll in the front ranks of police officers. Before taking employment with the Pennsylvania, Captain Stoll was four years in the city fire department, two years on the city police force and eighteen months a deputy sheriff with George H. Viberg. At the beginning the Pennsylvania police department was not considered in a favorable light by the county and city officials, but sentiment there has changed. The department not only protects the property and the patrons of the company, but affords protection in a great measure to the residents of the entire country through which the Pennsylvania lines pass.

PENNSY WILL ELECTRIFY.

Portion of Middle Division Will Have Motor Cars.

Harrisburg, Nov. 28.—That cars will soon be run on the Pennsylvania railroad by electricity is substantiated by the statement of an official of the Pennsylvania railroad in Harrisburg, when he said that work would soon be started on the power plant to be erected at Iroquoise. Plans are also being made for the erection of similar plants along the Middle division and they will be erected in such a position that the improvements will give the road both electricity and water. In the words of an official who made a recent trip over the road, "It will not be long before the Pennsylvania will be using electric engines and cars."

More than ordinary interest is centered in the plant to be erected near Iroquoise. Hundreds of acres of land have been secured by the railroad company, considerable of which is along the river front. At a point near what is known as the Buckwalter farm a dam will be erected across the Juniata river, while the power plant will be erected 100 yards west. It is the intention of the company to have this plant furnish sufficient power to supply all the signal and telegraph towers and to run cars between Aqueduct and Mifflin. Other plants, according to the information given out, will be located near Duncannon and near what is known as the Rockville Falls on the Enola side of the river. Dams will also be erected wherever necessary between Harrisburg and Altoona.

It was also announced that this city was a desirable site for the erection of steel cars and electrical engines, and it is expected that a plant will soon be started at an expenditure of about $2,000,000.

HIGHER RATES FAVORED.

Officials of the larger railroad systems are not satisfied with the increased per diem car service charges, and it is possible still further advances will be made before January 1. At a meeting of the general managers of practically every large system, held in Chicago recently, it was decided to increase the per diem charges from 25 to 50 cents a day. The new rates were to become effective next month. It was said yesterday that representatives of the Pennsylvania, the Erie, the New York Central and other lines are considering the advisability of making this rate 75 cents a day, and that a meeting of these officials will be held in Chicago within the next week or so to decide the matter.

GEORGE NULF HURT.

George Nulf, fireman for Engineer Monahan on Pennsylvania engine No. 7134, in the east yards service, sustained an injury to one of his knees this morning which will disable him for some days. He was in the act of picking up some article he had dropped while on the ground and got too close to the engine, which was moving and was struck by the siderod.

IMPROVEMENTS AT ORRVILLE.

That Orrville, Ohio, is to be made a division or terminal point on the Pennsylvania is said to be an assured fact. During the last year the company purchased considerable real estate along the tracks in that district and now owns a strip fully 500 feet wide and a mile long. It is said new shops and a sixteen stall round house will be built.

TO BE A KNIGHT OF THE GRIP.

Machinist L. G. O. D. Harrison, who has been employed in the Pennsylvania machine shop for about two years, resigned his position this morning. He has accepted the position of traveling salesman for the Wayne Oil Tank company, with territory in Indiana and adjacent states.

HUFFMAN WILL RECOVER.

Chris Huffman, the Wabash engineer who was injured at Montpelier early yesterday morning, will recover. News from his bedside in the Peru hospital is of a very encouraging character this morning. His wounded leg was amputated between the knee and ankle last night and he passed through the ordeal in good form.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE TODAY.

The Pittsburg Post this morning says: "The grievance committee representing trainmen and yardmen employed on the Pennsylvania lines west will meet officials of that company this morning, and it is believed a settlement will be made before the close of this week. The Chicago scale may be granted."

RETURNS TO OLD EMPLOYER.

John Henry is again an employe of the Fort Wayne Electric company, after an absence of about eight years, during which he was employed by a telephone company in Philadelphia. Mr. Henry will go "on the road" as traveling salesman.

WABASH PLACES CONTRACTS.

The Wabash has placed a contract with the American Bridge company for the erection of three steel bridges on the Westside Belt railroad at Pittsburg, which will cost $150,000.

H. G. Fry has taken a thirty-day leave of absence from his duties as a Nickel Plate fireman and will visit his home in Delphos, O.

Tonight Nickel Plate train No. 5 will be run in two sections, the last one being an emigrant train bound for the Chicago market.

R. S. Pettit, Pennsylvania machinist, has been called to South Bend by news of the serious condition of his father, who resides in that city.

After an absence of three months on account of sickness, W. Doan reported for duty at the Wabash machine shop this morning.

Engineer J. E. Gaskins is off duty on account of the illness of his wife and Yard Fireman S. Gable is off duty on account of being sick. Both are Pennsylvania employes.

Jasper Greer, an employe of the Peru Chair factory at Peru and fifty years old, was run over by a Wabash switch engine Saturday evening and had both legs cut off. He died four hours later.

Orville C. Krotz, manager of the Craig Biscuit company, is a patient at the Lutheran hospital, suffering from typhoid fever. He was taken there this morning.

Stationmaster J. W. Clark, of the Pennsylvania, has gone to Allegheny to join his wife in a visit with relatives and friends. Mrs. Clark went to that city several days ago.

Machinist John Sinclair, of the Pennsylvania, and his wife will go to Chicago this evening. He will return Friday, but Mrs. Sinclair will remain there a week with relatives.

C. D. Talmage and R. A. Towne, machinists at the Pennsylvania shops, will go to South Bend this evening to spend Thanksgiving day. Machinist C. D. Nolan will spend the holiday with relatives at Tiffin.

George Waldschmidt, janitor at the Pennsylvania master car builder's office, is confined to his home as the result of contracting a severe cold. Dennis Collins is doing the work in the absence of Mr. Waldschmidt.

Ed. W. Breese, clerk of the electric department of the Pennsylvania, will dine at the paternal home in Delphos, O., tomorrow and spend the afternoon in shooting rabbits in the fields adjacent to that city.

Engineer John Abercombie, of the G. R. & I., has gone to Kalamazoo to attend the funeral of Mrs. Garrison, the wife of the G. R. & I. engineer, whose death was mentioned by The Sentinel yesterday.

J. F. Sullivan will resume his duties in the boiler department at the Pennsylvania roundhouse next Monday, after an absence of nine months. Mr. Sullivan had typhoid fever and was as near death's door as man can get and not enter therein.

Herman Schotemeyer, a telegraph operator for a number of years employed by the Wabash, is now engaged in farming and poultry raising on land at the junction of the Wabash and Lake Erie and Western roads, where he owns thirty acres of land.

Yardmaster Dennis Hayes and Switchman Emmett McNally, of the Wabash, resumed work this morning. Mr. Hayes had been off duty on account of the death of his mother and Mr. McNally had been in St. Louis two months, serving on the trainmen's grievance committee.

H. Daseler, a boilermaker who quit the Wabash shops two or three months ago to take a position on the Mobile and Ohio road, has returned to Fort Wayne to resume his old place. He says this city is the best place on earth for boilermakers. Another new man at the Wabash shops is J. Sanders, also a boilermaker.

E. L. Archer has resigned a clerical position in the Nickel Plate yard offices and has accepted a position as location manager for the Family Amusement company, which is represented in this city by the Casino theater. Mr. Archer will remain in this city until the new year, when his duties will take him out of the city.

John Walsh, a yard conductor at Bellevue, has been transferred to Cleveland to work in the Nickel Plate yards, under Yardmaster Maxwell. He will move to that city next Monday. Mr. Walsh is well known to the Nickel Plate men in this city and Mrs. Walsh has also a wide acquaintance here through frequent visits with friends in the city.

A general notice was sent out by the Pennsylvania this morning, stating that all freight stations will be closed tomorrow after deliveries of perishable goods have been made, all shops will be closed except for necessary repairs, maintenance of way work will be suspended and local freight trains will be annulled for the day.

The B. & O. has adopted a new method of paying the shopmen. The paymaster will hereafter visit each department with the cash and as the employes appear before him in the order in which their names appear on the payrolls will receive their earnings for the month preceding. At Garrett the shop pay roll is upwards of $60,000.

A. F. Turner, who has just retired from the position of foreman of the machine department of the Wabash shops, has entered upon a vacation which will include a visit to Detroit and Buffalo. When he returns to the Wabash shops, it will be to assume charge of one of the machines. John Casey succeeded Mr. Turner as foreman. Mrs. Turner accompanies her husband to Detroit and Buffalo.

Mr. Knight, who has charge of the Pennsylvania and Wabash junction gates near Hanna street, went to the assistance of a driver for the Canadian Coal company a few days ago and received injuries which have since kept him from his duties. The driver's wagon broke down on the crossing and Mr. Knight had a knee badly hurt while helping to remove the outfit from the tracks. Switchman Sam Bender has had charge of the gates since the accident.

Nickel Plate train No. 5 was the scene of a little excitement Sunday morning as it neared Wheeler. An Italian passenger became suddenly deranged and tried to jump through one of the coach windows. Fellow passengers caught him and drew him back into the car, but he was frightfully cut by broken glass and it was feared for awhile that he would bleed to death. The hemorrhage was finally stopped and the man was taken to Chicago, where he was delivered to friends.

An Imitation Stove Will Give Imitation Heat

Avoid the cheaply constructed, putty jointed stove as you would counterfeit money, because it is just as worthless—and in many cases even more so. For not only does it radiate heat badly, but it wastes its original cost many times in fuel.

The majority of manufacturers, attracted by the phenomenal success of Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove, have imitated and copied it ever since it was put on the market. But in looks only have they been able to reproduce this wonderful heater.

For the features which make Cole's Hot Blast so economical in fuel, so effective in heating, and so durable in construction, are all patented and protected.

The joints of the ordinary stove are plastered with stove putty in an endeavor to make them air-tight. When the putty dries up and falls out, cold air is sucked in through the cracks—and the valuable gases from soft or hard coal, which should be burned, go up the chimney, along with most of the heat.

Shows Cole's Hot Blast Stove Burning Soft Coal

Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove

Burns Soft Coal, Lignite, Hard Coal or Wood

Made without stove putty. It remains air tight during the entire life of the stove, and is sold under the following guarantee, which cannot be made on any other heating stove in the world:

GUARANTEE:

1—We guarantee a saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size with soft coal or slack.
2—We guarantee Cole's Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with the same size fire-pot.
3—We guarantee that the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning, with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.
4—We guarantee that the stove will hold fire with soft coal thirty-six hours without attention.
5—We guarantee a uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal, or lignite.
6—We guarantee every above to remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
7—We guarantee the feed door to be smoke and dust proof.

The big expense of heating your home is in the fuel and not the first cost of your stove. Don't let yourself be persuaded to buy anything but Cole's Original Hot Blast.

Ask for free booklet on "Scientific Combustion," which will show you how to heat your home twice as comfortably at one-half the present cost.

CAUTION See the name "Cole's Hot Blast from Chicago," on the feed door of each stove. None genuine without it.
